Subject: Public Notice - Contagious Toys Digital Property Acquisition

We are delighted to announce our most recent 2020 acquisition, a new digital asset wholly owned by TCM.

The asset's name is Contagious Toys (CT) and has a vast range of well-known toy brands, the following are some product samples:

Listed below are some of the many inherent benefits of CT:

- Most of CT's products are purchased at liquidation sales.
- CT is one of Amazon's few stores with approval to sell toy brands such as Mattel, Lego, Disney, and many others in demand.
- The asset has a large and loyal, repeat customer base.
- We possess the rights to sell popular private brands in bulk.
- The toy market has a constant, steady demand and long shelf life.
- CT is a 10 years active store.
- TCM holds 100% of it.
- In the last 12 months, CT's turnover is $1,343,880

We are excited about realizing CT's full potential and confident that it will have a positive impact on TCM's value in the near future.
